(510) 237-7883

Oscar is a detail-oriented and highly adaptable professional with experience in educational support, digital media production, livestream operations, and online content management. His background includes assisting high school chemistry instruction, producing and editing short films recognized in student film festivals, and managing YouTube and Twitch content through end-to-end video creation, editing, technical setup, and audience engagement. He brings strong problem-solving skills, a positive attitude, and technical proficiency across Adobe Premiere Pro, Photoshop, OBS, and streaming platforms.

At D+H, Oscar supports the team by applying his technical resourcefulness, communication skills, and reliability to daily operations. He contributes wherever needed—whether organizing information, assisting with systems or media tasks, helping streamline internal workflows, or supporting staff with technology and communication needs—all while maintaining the proactive, team-oriented mindset he is known for.
